Company Philosophy

Paster Brothers Construction brings a practical side to high-end remodels, additions and new construction, managing real-world costs and maintaining close contact with clients throughout the project.

Areas of Expertise/Recent Projects

The elite of the Los Angeles architecture scene turn to this grounded general contractor to keep their jobs well marshaled and their budgets under control. Now moving into its third generation, the firm's experience encompasses many architectural styles, from the challenge of contemporary to the refinement of traditional. Gary Paster, who took over daily operations duties from his father in 1973, studied architectural history and travels worldwide soaking in design elements. Clients benefit from this appreciation of fine details.
