Company Philosophy

Using their keen eye for the unique and the unexpected Gail Shields-Miller and Daniel Vanhall create truly personalized and visually inspiring environments. By first reaching a perfect understanding with their clients the firm creates innovative interiors in both contemporary and traditional styles. Homes that make reference to a glamorous past and yet feel as if they are on the cutting edge of today's design trends are the result of an exceptional attention to detail and aesthetics.

Areas of Expertise/Recent Projects

Shields and Company has been responsible for the transformation of residences as diverse as an Upper East Side town house, to an apartment in an important, landmark Rosario Candella building in Brooklyn. Additional projects range from redesign of a chic penthouse near Lincoln Center, to the renovation of a country home on Long Island into delightfully inviting transitional space. The firm has also infused several vacation homes in the Hamptons and Fire Island with their couture style and artistic flair. Shields & Company has been featured in the Home Section of "The New York Times" and "Bang For Your Buck" on HGTV. Gail and Daniel have also participated in the prestigious Kips Bay Show house in NYC, The Hamptons Show house and "Design on Dime" for Housing Works.
