Areas of Expertise/Recent Projects

A corner of the family room Ridder created in an attic is dressed up with aBaroque style mantle, grass cloth and a jolly palm tree tapestry for thechaise.
 Curves are the theme in this guest bedroom with whimsical panels suggestedby trompe l'oeil moldings, undulating lines in the canape in the window bayand delicately embrodiered paisley shapes on the headboards.
 The long regency style credenza and seashells form a counterpoint to theclient's oil paintings and provide needed storage. Subtle striping adds anote of elegance.
