Company Philosophy

Virtus Design is a New York City based interior design and architecture firm founded by Frederick Wildfoerster. For more than thirty years, Mr. Wildfoerster has been designing exceptionally beautiful home environments that reflect distinctly Manhattan lifestyles. Combining a passion for European classical design traditions with contemporary sensibilities, he takes pride in creating the perfect interior ambiance for refined city living.
To compliment his own skills and talents, Frederick Wildfoerster has assembled around him a strong team of architects, technical specialists, artisans and craftsmen. These professionals all contribute to the Virtus Design creative process. Each design mission is carried out with a perfect synergy of imagination, expertise, and exacting attention to aesthetic detail, all while remaining dedicated to the client's needs and the architectural integrity of the project.

Areas of Expertise/Recent Projects

At Virtus Design we understand that the realm of “never-ending design possibilities” can be overwhelming.
That’s why we accompany clients from start to finish, as we want your interior design or renovation to be a natural expression of who you are. We aim at creating an interior design vocabulary that matches your personality and preferences.
