Company Philosophy

EDG is a pioneer in residential and business electronics technology. EDG is recognized by its peers, associations, related trade professionals and technology journals as one of the TOP systems integrators in the country. Providing expertise for more than 28 years and winning over 74 national awards, EDG has been a technology solutions provider of audio video conferencing systems, integrated multimedia presentation, luxury amenity space, entertainment, cardio theater, screening rooms, home theater, lighting, shade and automation control solutions. Founder Bob Gullo has served as President and Board Member of HTSA, listed in CE Retailer Most Vital Influencers, Dealer Scope List under CEDIA and CEA, Dealer of the Year Pro Magazine, Top 100 Integrators, Custom Retailers' Big Guns and Lutron Electronics Hall of Fame. Gullo has been a member of CEDIA (Custom Electronics Design and Installation Association) for more than 20 years and has been an influential advocate of education via the AIA provider program and CEDIA ROI programs providing CEU courses for the Architectural and Design Community. EDG solutions can be found in the finest residential and commercial settings. EDG solutions continue to be sought after by most discriminating clients worldwide.
