Company Philosophy

McMillen Inc. has maintained the same size as it was in the late nineteen-twenties.At any given time we consist of five or six designers, an equal number of management assistants, an interior architecture department, and a business office. We operate as individuals, each with our areas of expertise and our distinct personalities, but also as a family, exchanging ideas and standing in for each other as circumstances dictate. We share a common sense of ethics, using the same business model for all clients, and a common aesthetic, striving to make our interiors timeless, informed, and personal. In the words of Eleanor Brown, who directly influenced many of us, "If you do it right the first time, you don't have to do it over."
