

Jane Gil Gardens

Company Philosophy

Jane Gil Gardens has been designing, installing, and maintaining the City's most-talked-about landscapes and distinguished properties for over 34 years now. Working closely with the top nurseries and plant suppliers allows us to provide our clients with the best available plants for unique and lush combinations. Our gardens provide year-round interest and showcase the most beautiful trees, shrubs and blooms. Please contact us about your space and needs, and Ellen and the crew will work with you to execute the garden effect you desire.

Areas of Expertise/Recent Projects

Jane Gil Gardens is extremely focused on details in our plantings and maintenance. We bring an extensive knowledge and experience of horticulture and work with our suppliers to bring top-quality plant material for our installations. Our company has expertise in estate gardens, streetscape plantings for apartment buildings, terraces, rooftop gardens, residential yards, windowboxes, container plantings, indoor plants and cut flower arrangements. Having serviced Greater New York's most discriminating customers for nearly four decades we have developed a network of sources to fulfill almost any horticultural desire. Our design team loves the opportunity to work with different styles. We have also tackled the full range of problems from deep shade city gardens, plantings for too-wet or too-dry plots, and hoisting trees, shrubs and soil high above street level to create spectacular terrace and roof gardens. We recently completed several new large projects, including a plaza garden at 10 W 66th St and a rooftop and backyard in the West Village.
