Company Philosophy

Bruce Bierman's work epitomizes East Coast style, sophisticated but understated. His approach is likened to couture workmanship, using the best materials, clean lines, and attention to detailing. "I want a client to walk into a space and sigh with pleasure."

Areas of Expertise/Recent Projects

Bruce Bierman's projects include a family compound in Easthampton, a waterfront home in Seal Harbor in Maine, a town house and artist's studio on the Upper East Side, a large stone house in Greenwich, a penthouse at the Breakers in Palm Beach, a Miami Beach apartment, an apartment on Rittenhouse Square in Philadelphia, and a loft in Manhattan's Chelsea District, as well as various homes in New York City, Westchester, Greenwich, Palm Beach, Miami and the Hamptons
