Areas of Expertise/Recent Projects

Miguel Pons recently installed a five terrace garden triplex apartment over looking the Central Park Reservoir. Boxwood and hollies were used to create rooms on the large terrace for entertaining as well as framing the view of the reservoir. Different colored evergreens and shrubs were used to imitate the colors of the trees in the park. For a South Hampton, New York Estate, Miguel installed a 100 ft. parallel, double hedge shrub boarder to create a defined entrance way to the house as well as screen the guest parking area. A formal garden was installed on the grounds. The most recent project is an Upper Eastside townhouse with a large backyard where a green wall is being installed.
